Mr. John A. McCone
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Langley, Virginia

Dear Mr. McCone:

It is a pleasure to express my appreciation for the effective period of instruction presented by [redacted] at Fort Holabird, on 25 February 1962, on the subject of Economic Data, to personnel attending the second Senior Foreign Officer Course.

STAT

[redacted] acquainted our students with the importance of economic intelligence and its relationship to overall requirements of the intelligence field. As a result of the presentation, these senior foreign officers should return to their home countries with a valuable understanding of the complexities involved in and the specialization required for the production of good intelligence.

Thank you for your courtesy in making [redacted] available to give this presentation and please convey to him my sincere appreciation.
